Hello, my name is Micheal Babalola and i am an aspiring automation software tester, currently doing my master in automation control and robotics. My experience in some type of jobs have made me lost interest in a 9-5 job of any form. I wanted a remote job that will grant me the freedom i want, to be able to have time for family when whenever i want and to be able to sell my skills and maximize profit by working remotely and have the freedom to do jobs as much as i want outside IRL35/taxman…

And i am also using this medium to tell my CVO that module 3 is going to be best of all the modules i have done so far in terms of results and pls judge a book by it cover and in my case past module grades..
